A Session for Supervisors and Program Managers: Inspiring your team to build strong relationships with students and volunteers through the lens of How Does Learning Happen?

The four foundations of How Does Learning Happen? outlines the importance of children, educators, and families, feeling a sense of belonging and well-being as well as having an opportunity to express themselves and engage in meaningful relationships. This workshop session offers strategies based on reflective practice to help you inspire Educators within your Team in building relationships with students and volunteers through partnership, connections and respectful dispositions. If you are looking to encourage collaboration and strength-based approaches to life long learning in your early childhood setting, this session is for you. Join ECCDC's Coaching and Mentoring team for this three-hour session to bring the concepts and philosophies of How Does Learning Happen? to life in fostering positive professional relationships amongst colleagues, students and volunteers. This workshop will offer participants an opportunity to brainstorm with one another ways in which they can support their team to build meaningful relationships with students and volunteers. With a consideration of the College of Early Childhood Educators Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice, this workshop will encourage reflective practice through the voice of all professionals contributing to creating an inviting and co-learning environment in your early years settings.
